Pearlington braces for East Pearl crest

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Hancock County Civil Defense and Red Cross officials and volunteers late Wednesday braced for possible flooding of the Pearlington area when the East Pearl River reached a predicted crest Wednesday night or early this morning.

The river is expected to rise some seven feet above normal levels, according to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Some 40,000 sand bags have been made available to residents along the river, and an emergency shelter is open to evacuees at Gulfview Elementary School gymnasium in Lakeshore.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

Wednesday predicted the East Pearl River at Pearlington would rise seven feet above sea level between 6 p.m. and midnight.

Bill Hoffman of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County Red Cross volunteer disaster chairman, said the Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore, which is being used as an emergency shelter, opened to receive evacuees at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

The shelter is prepared to provide food, a nurse, a receptionist, law officers and workers from the Red Cross to assist potential flood victims, Hoffman explained.

"The East Pearl River is now four and one-half feet above sea level," Dorothy Bielstein, County Civil Defense secretary, said Wednesday afternoon.

The Corps delivered by helicopter Wednesday additional plastic to reinforce some 40,000 sand bags distributed Monday for use by Pearlington residents.

Lt. Col. Don Pope, Deputy District Engineer for the Corps' Mobile District, said, "The East Pearl River is expected to rise seven feet, plus or minus a foot, Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning along Hancock County banks."

The seven-foot prediction is based

Board declares county disaster area; seeks aid

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Hancock County Board of Supervisors declared Hancock County a "disaster area" during an emergency meeting Monday afternoon.

Police officials were requested Monday to hand-deliver the Board's resolution declaring Hancock County a disaster area to Mississippi Governor Cliff Finch.

The Board declared the county a disaster area due to "damage from high water, high winds, inclement weather and impending inclement weather."

Some beach road in Hancock County was reported by Supervisors as "not suitable or safe for travel."

Board members also voted to request sections of the beach road may be "undetermined."

"Declaring Hancock County a disaster area makes the county potentially available for federal assistance," said Board Attorney, Walter Gex.

"It's a matter of procedure," he continued, "We declare the county a disaster area, then a federal survey is taken of the damage."

"The survey hopefully makes us available for federal assistance," he explained.

Larry Seal, representing the Board's engineering firm, Broadway and Seal, announced he would notify the Federal Highway Administration Monday of damage to the beach road.

"When damage was done during Hurricane Camille and Betsy, the Highway Administration was responsible for the restoration of the roads, therefore I assume emergency funds channeled through the Highway Administration during the hurricanes will be available for repairing the beach road for this emergency."

Seal said he could not accurately estimate the cost of damage to beach road until the inclement weather passes.

The emergency board meeting Monday resulted from an earlier gathering of supervisors at Hancock County Civil Defense headquarters to assess damage done to their areas.

Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge stated Ansley Community, Claiborne Community, Pearlington, Bell Isle subdivision and Oak Harbor subdivision had been flooded. Approximately one half mile of sidewalk, DISASTER AREA-Page 6A

Queries State Education Department

Deficiency list hypothetical, North Bay principal reports

By RICH ADAMS
Bay St. Louis Superintendent of School J. D. McCullough Wednesday said he is unaware of accreditation-threatening deficiencies listed in a letter from North Bay Principal Billy Sills to the State Department of Education.

Sills said Wednesday he sent the letter citing hypothetical deficiencies to the Department of Education as a "favor for three people who sought clarification of a story in the Echo."

The news report Sills referred to was headlined "HNC accreditation loss imminent," and appeared in the April 8 edition of the Sea Coast Echo.

That report stated Hancock North Central schools are currently on probation for deficiencies and will be dropped from accreditation lists by June 30 if the problems are not corrected by then.

Sills said the three people asked him to write the Department of Education to see if accreditation could be endangered with the deficiencies listed.

In his April 10 letter to Department of Education Supervisor Dale Holloway, Sills lists six deficiencies, and asks, "Would we be dropped completely from the accredited list if the following is (sic) not corrected?"

"At present we are accredited Class AA," Sills' letter begins.

"Could we have a complete loss of accreditation from Class AA to minimum accreditation? Would we be dropped completely from the accreditation list if the following is not corrected," he asks in his letter.

"How long will we have to correct the following deficiencies:

1. Overcrowded classrooms;
2. Administrative office and teacher's lounge inadequate;
3. No adequate space for physical education;
4. A need to replace five trailers;
5. No teacher workroom;
6. Site not well landscaped and drained."

In a response to Sills' letter, Holloway replies the deficiencies are not an immediate threat to loss of accreditation.

"The deficiencies you listed in your letter of 4-10-79, I do not believe, would cause you to lose accreditation,"

Echo clarifies reports on campaign finances

Picayune engineers Buddy Broadway and Larry Seal have taken issue with a Sea Coast Echo story published Thursday, March 29, in which Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett denies he will run for the State Highway Commission post currently held by Shag Pyron.

Also in that article, Bennett denied reports which were prevalent in the community at the time that he might receive financial assistance for such a campaign from Broadway and Seal.

The Echo in no way intended to imply Broadway or Seal or their firm, Broadway and Seal Engineers, actually contributed to any campaign funds or that they intended to make such campaign contributions to Bennett or any other elected official.

The Echo regrets any erroneous conclusions which may have been drawn by readers about alleged political activities by Broadway and Seal. Broadway and Seal staunchly deny any such activities individually or on the part of their firm.

The Echo was in fact merely attempting to either confirm or discount the prevalent rumors on the matter of Bennett's political future and campaign financing in publishing the mayor's statements on those questions.

The Echo did not say nor did it intend to imply there was any basis in fact for those reports of political activity on the part of Broadway and Seal.

Broadway and Seal insist they were not aware of any political ambitions on Bennett's part prior to publication of the Echo's interview with the mayor, much less being a part of any campaign financing.

International Paper dedicates Swamp acres

In an effort to improve future hunting in Hancock County, International Paper Company is establishing some 30,000 acres of company owned land in the Devil's Swamp area as a wildlife management area.

The action by the paper company has been supported by the Bay-Waveland Rod and Gun Club, according to Frank Ladner, club president.

Sid Moss, IP's Sea Glen Timberlands supervisor said the establishment of the land as a management area has been under consideration for some time.

"When the Bay-Waveland Rod and Gun Club passed a resolution supporting this action by the company, we were truly convinced the area was needed," Moss said.

Moss added the area would be established over an indefinite period. During this time, supplemental food plantings for wildlife will be developed, controlled burning for quail and other birds along with efforts to control loose livestock, feral dogs, and illegal harvests of wildlife will be undertaken.

The program will be conducted in cooperation with the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission, he said.

The resolution by the sportsmen's group pointed out that International Paper manages the forest lands in Hancock County under a multiple-use concept, which provides for wildlife,

BAY ST. LOUIS

Greeting were extended and "Happy Birthday" sung to the April celebrants: Esther Cuevas, Georgiana Diebold, Julian L. Necaise, Robine Guggino, and Riddle Curry. The birthday party was held at the Center on Old Spanish Trail, Monday, April 23rd.

The "special birthday prize" of two chicken dinners contributed by Buddy Morrow, owner-manager of Danny's Fried Chicken, Hwy. 90, was won by Georgiana Diebold.

Sedonia Fayard was the lucky winner of the door-prize of dinner for two contributed by Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant, on US-90.

Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association was joined in contributing birthday cakes by The Security Savings and Loan Association. Our special thanks to both of these fine associations for their kindness.

RSVP volunteers, who always generously give of their time to help make all of our events successful are Eva Ruhr, Cecile Gallivan, Catherine Gallivan, Maggie Dambrino, Bernice Scaffidi, Jennie Taconi, Edith Chevis, Nina Garner, Lucy Bradt, Ethel Dormain, Julia Leddy, Jewel Stratton, Thelma White, Evelyn Spence, Georgiana Diebold and Joe Petta.

The Bay Junior High Choral Group, made up of eighth and ninth grade students under the accompaniment and direction of their instructor, Ms. Peggy Tedford, entertained with their fine vocal renditions of "This is a Great Country," "Happiness is Inside of You," "Christopher Robin, is Sayin' His Prayers," "Trampin'," "Stone on Stone," and "Sing a Happy Song."

This group has many accomplishments to be proud of and rightly so. Some of their recent successful ventures are a Christmas Concert, singing carols at the lighting of the Community Christmas Tree at Bay Bridge, and their participation in the Junior High Choral Festival in Pascagoula.

The Bay Senior High Sextet, joined the choral group in the program of entertainment.

They also are very accomplished, having just returned from the State Choral Contest in Vicksburg where they were awarded a Superior rating, being one of nine groups state-wide to receive this award.

We enjoyed their rendition of "Music Is My Life," "Pretty Little Shoes," and "Spread Joy."

We wish to thank Mrs. Tedford for giving us such a pleasurable afternoon by sharing her talented students with us, and like their song, these fine young people really did spread joy and made a rainy afternoon bright and sunny.

Hancock County is very proud of its teen-agers who always take part in community activities.

There are not enough words to express our praise, and our gratitude and our pride in them all.

a very informative tour.

Eva Ruhr was in the hospital, but is now recuperating at home.

Please remember all of these, our friends, with a card, a cheerful hello or where possible, a short visit. I'm sure this would add to a more speedy recovery.

CLOSING

April showers have generated all of the needed energy for the beautiful May flowers they always bring.

The last few days have made us realize by the floods that have befallen our brothers and sisters throughout our state and nation, that even good things, when over done, can be too much.

Even the fragrance and beauty of those May flowers shall not be able to bring joy to those who have been hurt so deeply.

Maybe this is a lesson to be learned.

To answer the question why the world does not love Americans who are so forgiving, so generous in giving to all of the world, even to our own.

Maybe we have been over gracious.

Maybe we have flooded the rose gardens when what they really needed was a little self help.

Let us Lord, we pray, learn to live in peace by learning to love our brother, and not be over-indulgent, like even mother nature, now and then, and cause that love to smother our brother.

Seal (Seale) family reunion set May 3

The annual Seal, or Seale, family reunion has been scheduled for May 3 at the Main Lodge of Percy Quin State Park in McComb.

All family members and friends are invited to attend between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Cold drinks will be provided, however, each person is asked to bring food.

Based on last year's attendance, approximately 250 members and friends of the family are expected at the gathering.

The Seals migrated to the United States from England, first going to Ireland and then to America.

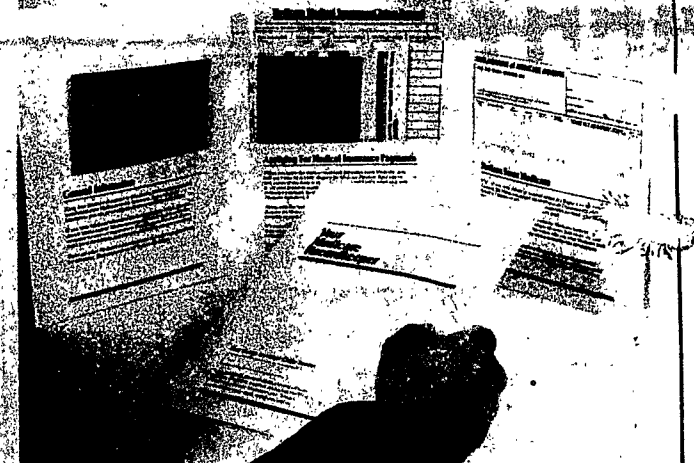

Many of the descendants are known to have settled in Hancock County, according to O.M. Smith, Jr., of Biloxi.

Reporting Is Important Responsibility

People receiving social security monthly checks have an important responsibility to report changes in their situation which may have an effect on their eligibility or the amount of their check. A social security representative said recently, "Correct reporting may mean that a person will not have to pay back benefits he or she should not have received. Or it may mean that a person will receive a larger check, the spokesperson said."

The events that must be reported are listed and explained in the booklet, "Your social security rights and responsibilities." There are separate editions for people who receive retirement and survivor benefits and for those who receive disability benefits.

All people who receive retirement or survivor benefits should report the following:

- Change of mailing address.
- Earnings in excess of the yearly exempt amount.
- Earnings in excess of the yearly exempt amount.
- Leaving the U.S.
- Work outside the U.S.

questions and answers

Q: My boss told me that more of my earnings will be subject to social security taxes this year. Exactly how much of my salary will be taxed?

A: The maximum amount of yearly earnings subject to social security taxes—the wage base—increases from $17,700 for 1978 to $22,900 for 1979. The social security law calls for additional increases in the wage base in future years in order to keep the social security system on a sound financial footing.

PRJC public relations director takes awards

Larry L. Stanford, director of public relations at Pearl River Junior College, won 14 awards at the annual spring awards conference of the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi. Stanford entered nine different categories, picking up four first places, seven seconds, two thirds and one honorable mention award. Eleven junior colleges across the state are members of the junior division of the association.

Last year Stanford won 10 total awards including three firsts, four seconds and three thirds.

This year the PRC PR director picked up first place honors for black and white photography, poster design, brochure copy and radio programming.

The seven second place certificates were for a magazine article, news writing, magazine design, poster design, radio programming, and two second places for interview-type stories.

A third place award for poster design and radio programming gave Stanford a complete sweep in those respective categories.

The honorable mention award came for brochure copy.

In addition to the state awards, Stanford teamed up with Margaret Boone earlier in the year to design and print the number one DECA newsletter in the nation.

DECA news letters from all 50 states entered this competition.

Stanford, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stanford of Poplarville, serves as PRC's director of public relations, printing and sports information.

He also teaches journalism, photography, make-up and design and advises the college annual and the award winning Dixie Drawl, the school's newspaper.

Game wardens aid flood victims

Men in the familiar "grey and green" of the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission have been involved in a wild life recently, aiding not only stranded animals, but homeless humans as well.

Some 150 state conservation officers have worked several thousand man-hours to assist persons displaced by flood waters from Kemper County south along the Pearl River to below Columbia. Alternating between moving livestock, personal belongings and sandbagging levees, officers assisted those left homeless by record flood levels.

"Everyone in the agency has assisted in the flood work," Game and Fish Director Joe Stone said. "From law enforcement officers, to biologists to staff personnel, we have assisted in manning the Jackson-Hinds Emergency Operations Center and other phases of flood disaster work to help those ravaged by the rising waters."

Meanwhile, rising waters along the Pearl River floodplain has forced many species of wildlife to seek homes on higher ground. This flood has come at a time when some species are nesting, but state biologists say the effects of the high water is usually not that serious.

"Generally, floods proceed down the normal course of a river and do some limited habitat damage to principally farm game like quail, rabbit and some squirrels," Wildlife Coordinator Edsel Cliburn said.

"Floods do one essential thing in nature, that is, they remove the weaker species. This is one of nature's ways of helping keep wildlife populations in check. What is left are healthier, non-diseased and parasite free members of the population to reproduce."

Cliburn agreed that in some cases deer and other game animals in forested areas might be affected and may be forced to move to other areas. "However, we have found that these animals usually return to their native home range."

"Right now, some birds like turkeys are beginning their nesting season. And some birds will be forced into higher areas which will insure a better hatch later," Cliburn said.

A display of unity!

The recent damages to our beach front has caused a unity we have not witnessed in Hancock County since Hurricane Camille.

We will even go so far as to say the unity among the county and cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland may be even more in the attempts to restore our Beach.

It is a good feeling to see men and equipment working together on our beach front, from the different districts of the County and both Cities.

Some of our supervisor's districts sustained more damages than others, and we have to commend the five supervisors for their united effort in trying to get our Beach front in a passable condition.

The mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland should also be congratulated on their assistance in vehicles and men helping on the repair of this vital access road in our County.

The more our elected officials work together, the better our county and municipalities will be.

To Alton (Dolph) Kellar, president; Bert Courge, Oscar Peterson, Sam Perniciaro and James N. Travirca, our Board of Supervisors and Mayors Larry Bennett and Johnny Longo of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, respectively and aldermen, keep up the unity.

There are many things being done in our county and cities as joint efforts, which is very good. We do feel many more things could be done through more unified efforts.

Keep up the good work, supervisors and city leaders.

It happens every time!

There seems to be a tendency among us to be curious of happenings at the most critical times.

Local Civil Defense, law enforcement, political leaders and volunteers were trying to evacuate low lying areas, and guess who was there - the sight-seekers.

Utility company employees were in the process of trying to restore electricity in some areas and they had to dodge the traffic or tie up several police officers to protect them from getting run over.

We should all stay at home whenever there is an emergency. The local Civil Defense agency, assisted by law enforcement, fire association members and volunteers should all be commended for their dedication to their fellow citizens.

The Mississippi National Guard should also be commended for their help in reaching the folks in low areas with their Larks.

The Red Cross Volunteers who were on duty at the evacuation area should also be given a big thanks.

Those who offered their help by calling the Civil Defense and making themselves and equipment available should also be commended.

The Civil Defense is made up of volunteers, people of all walks of life. We can all better help if, when there is a training program by trying to attend. Practice makes perfect, as the old saying goes.

If you would like to join the 100 or so others who are Civil Defense volunteers, give them a call at 467-9226.

If you want to be a sight seeker, be a Civil Defense volunteer. During the time of an emergency you will know all that is going on.

Holloway's reply reads:

"I believe these would cause your school to drop from AA Class to Minimum Advise. Normally, a school is not dropped from accreditation for two or three years unless they have an unapproved health report," Holloway concludes.

Copies of Sills' letter and Holloway's reply were reportedly circulated through the county during the past weekend.

"The letter was merely to clear up information for these three people," Sills said Wednesday.

"Undoubtedly these three people spread (the information) around," he added.

Bay School Superintendent J.D. McCullough said Wednesday he knew nothing about Sills' letter to Holloway, adding a report sent in by Sills in October cited none of the six deficiencies listed in his letter.

"We send an accreditation report to the Department of Education each year in October," McCullough said.

"In February 1972, a response from the State Department gave us an AA rating with no deficiencies. Any other deficiencies since then I know nothing about," he added.

"All reports come through me, the superintendent. Mr. Sills checks out deficiencies and we report them," the superintendent continued.

"If the State Department of Education finds any deficiencies we have to correct them," McCullough added.

McCullough then said classrooms at North Bay are not overcrowded, but declined to comment on any other aspects of the deficiencies listed in the letter.

"I knew nothing about this. I do not understand why one report was sent in and approved and then Mr. Sills makes this report," McCullough said. "I will have to look into this," he promised.

State jobless rate declines

The state's unemployment rate dropped to 6.2 percent in March, a decrease from the February jobless rate of 6.9 percent, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Edgar C. Lloyd Jr.

The 6.2 percent for the state was still slightly above the national rate of 6.1 percent for March.

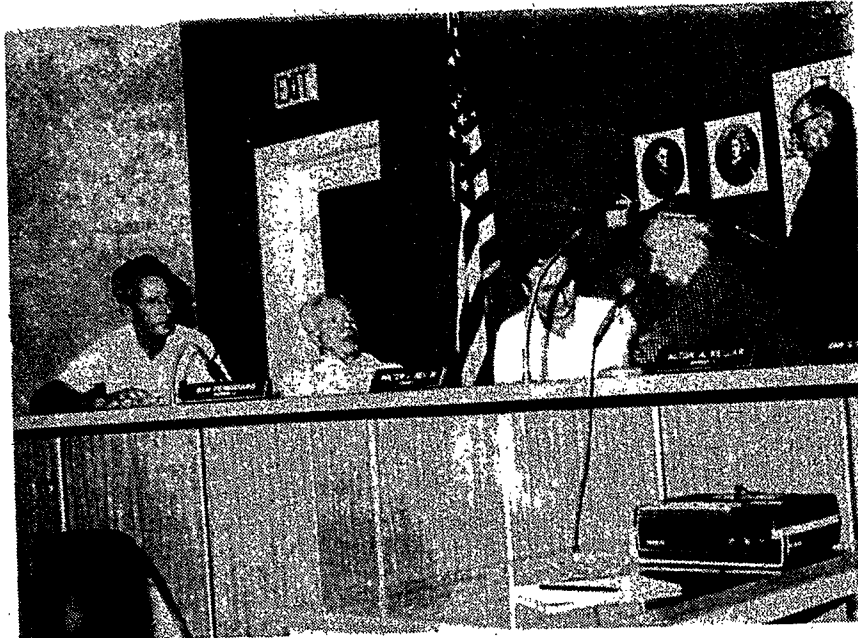

MESC figures showed 61,000 persons unemployed and 930,100 employed out of a civilian labor force of 991,100. Winston, Sharkey, and Quitman counties had the highest rates of unemployment. They were 18.2, 14.9, and 13.7 percent, respectively.

Lafayette County, 2.9 percent; Rankin County, 2.9 percent; and Itawamba County, 2.9 percent, were the three lowest rates of unemployment experienced during March.

Hancock and Jefferson Davis counties rates of unemployment remained unchanged, and the remaining seventy counties registered decreases in their unemployment rates from February to March.

Roaring 20's poet sings praises of printing press

(Editor's Note: On the occasion of the formal opening of our new newspaper plant, we would like to present Robert H. Davis' 1923 definition of the printing press.)

THE PRINTING PRESS
I am the printing press, born of the mother earth.
My heart is of steel, my limbs are of iron, and my fingers are of brass.
I sing the songs of the world's oratories of history, the symphonies of all time.

I am the voice of today, the herald of tomorrow.
I weave into the warp of the past the woof of the future.
I tell the stories of peace and war alike.

I make the human heart beat with passion or tenderness.
I stir the pulse of nations, and make brave men do braver deeds, and soldiers die.

I inspire the midnight toiler, weary at his loom, to lift his head again and gaze, with fearlessness, into the vast beyond, seeking the consolation of a hope eternal.

When I speak, a myriad of people listen to my voice. I am the tireless clarion of the news.

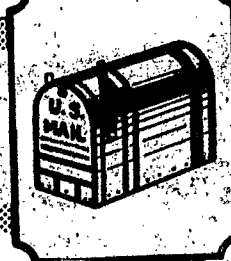

I cry your joys and sorrows every hour.
I fill the dullard's mind with thoughts uplifting.

I am light, knowledge, power. I emphasize the conquests of mind over matter.
I am the record of all that is good and has achieved.

My offspring comes to you in candle's glow, amid the dim lamps of poverty, the splendor or riches; at sunrise, at high noon and in the waning evening. I am the laughter and tears of the world, and I shall never die, until all things return to the immutable dust. I am the printing press.

Talk about weather!

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

Was it Will Rogers who remarked: "We can all talk about the weather, but we can't do anything about it?"

And there was quite a bit of talk along the Mississippi Gulf Coast over the weekend and extending into the week beginning Monday, April 21.

On Friday last, winds lifted tons of sand from the 27 mile-long strip of man-made beach.

The nature-made sand lift caused road hazards. Sand dunes piled up along the medians and on lawns. Car finishes got a "sand blasting," and paint jobs on houses and fences "along the front" suffered damage.

By Sunday, wind driven tides brought problems to areas with low-lying grounds. Owners of pecan trees looked on helplessly as high winds whipped off tender bloom laden twigs that literally covered the ground.

"Don't count your pecan crop by the early April blooms" might be advice comparable to the fable "Don't count the chickens until the eggs are hatched."

Pine cones rained from trees along with dead branches and some live ones. Ditches filled with water. Telephone lines were busy...folks trying to communicate with friends and relatives in disaster areas around Jackson and Columbia.

Surely, there isn't much we can do about the weather.

What we can do is to help those less fortunate than we.

Also, we can start cleaning up immediately and be a little patient if city services are somewhat slowed down.

And for those of us who worry about the water supply, our underground water table has surely risen.

Sincerely,
Joe Pilet

upon measurements taken from a gauge placed at the intersection of Highway 11 and Pearl River in Pearl River County, about 15 miles upstream, explained Pope.

"The Pearl River is now at 18.1 feet and is expected to crest at 18.5 feet tonight," said Pope Tuesday.

Corps workers demonstrated to Pearl River residents the proper filling and placement of sand bags to insure water-tight protection.

Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge, Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro and Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca managed and assisted in getting sand for filling the bags, equipment and some manpower.

The operation was centered at the Pearl River Community Center on Hwy 604.

Courge designated Bell Isle subdivision, Oak Harbor subdivision, Pearl River Community Center and areas in Pearl River along the East Pearl River as sections most likely to flood Tuesday night.

"The crest Tuesday night is expected to hold for 48 hours," said Pope.

Courge said bags, shovels and sand would be supplied for Pearl River residents, but residents are ultimately responsible for filling the bags and placing them in front of their homes for protection.

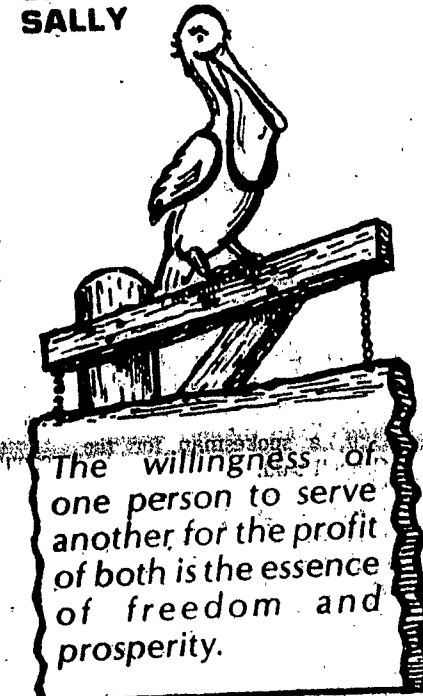

"The best thing that can hold flood waters down," stated Pope, "is a low tide and a strong north wind."

Hancock County School District Superintendent Terrell Randolph said high school students at Hancock North Central from the Pearl River area were released at 1 p.m. Tuesday to assist their families in flood preparation.

In addition Randolph said he authorized use of Gulfview Elementary School gymnasium as a "standby" shelter for possible flood victims in the area.

The superintendent noted Civil Defense requested Gulfview Gym since Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in Pearl River is within a low lying area and susceptible to flooding, elaborated Randolph.

Fishery Management Council proposes reef fish regulations

Biloxi hearing May 21

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council is proposing some regulations which would affect fishermen fishing snapper, grouper, triggerfish, tilefish and amberjack in the federal waters outside the states' territorial seas as part of a draft management plan for the Gulf, a spokesman for the Council said.

Proposed restrictions on fishing gear are as follows:

- prohibit use of "bang sticks", poisons or explosives for taking of reef fish
- require degradable panels on fish traps.
- require trap floats be identified by color coded buoys.
- require traps be constructed with a minimum mesh size of 1" x 2".
- require traps to be 64 cubic feet or smaller.
- limit the number of traps to 200 per vessel.

Other proposed requirements include mandatory reporting of catch processing statistics by persons selling their catch and by persons purchasing catch for resale, the spokesman added.

Temporary measures designed to prevent overfishing by reducing fishing effort and catch are also proposed. These measures include temporary area and season closures which will be implemented only if the reef fish are being overfished in certain localities of the Gulf. The Council is requesting public comment on the type of temporary measures that should be implemented to prevent overfishing in each area.

Copies of a summary of the proposed provisions of the plan can be obtained from the Gulf Council, National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) and marine patrol (Conservation) officer or state marine extension agent.

Hearings are scheduled to allow public comment on the proposed plan and regulations. The Council and NMFS will also accept written comments on the plan until May 27, 1979.

Barry McDonald, supervisor of the event, was guest speaker.

Queen Pam Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ladner of the Ladner Community, then threw out the traditional ball signifying the first pitch.

The opening game was won by the Necaise Crossing team, who defeated the Kiln Athletics, 13-6.

In senior League play, the DeLisle Lucky Sluggers defeated the Hancock Farm Bureau Kiln team 12-10.

HNC coach to assist in basketball camp

Mississippi University for Women in Columbus will host its sixth annual basketball camp June 3-9 for girls in the seventh grade through high school.

The camp will feature instruction in offensive and defensive techniques, ball handling and game strategy. Players will also be videotaped in action as part of their instruction, according to Dr. Murphy, M.U.W. basketball coach, and members of the M.U.W. basketball team.

Cost of the weeklong camp will be $25 which includes room, board, camp tuition, entertainment, insurance and a camp tee shirt. The fee for commuting campers will be $10.

"We, the members of the Hancock-Harrison Little League, give special praise to Chris Sewell, chairman of the opening day, for doing an outstanding job," Richard Cuevas noted.

Applications which should be accompanied by a $15 deposit are being accepted now. Prospective campers may obtain applications or additional information by writing M.U.W., Basketball Camp, Box W-1400, Columbus, Miss. 39701.

The camp, which will be held in the new Emma Odell Physical Education Assembly Building, is operated within the guidelines of the Mississippi High School Athletic Association, the Mississippi Private High School Athletic Activities Association, and similar agencies in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Florida and Arkansas.

Weather is setback for local cable TV

Opening ceremonies previously scheduled for June 1 at Hancock Community Cable Inc.'s building on St. Joseph St., Waveland, may have to be postponed a month due to this week's adverse weather conditions.

Neville R. (Jake) Jacob, vice president and general manager of the undertaking, said Tuesday delays in delivery of building and system components added to the latest bout of bad weather have combined to set back his operations.

"When we had the weather we couldn't get the pieces. Now we have most of what we need and our contractors hired, but the weather turned against us," Jacob reported.

He said, "Our engineers report construction of plant is proceeding as fast as the utility poles are released but the more complex line work, such as splicing, installation of hardware, balancing, and so forth, will just have to wait until the weather conditions stabilize."

The cable company reported earlier this month its intentions to turn on some five miles of plant in the downtown Waveland area during the first week of June. "This ambition is still one we possess but it may be turned aside in favor of a later date, maybe July 4, unless we really can 'pour it on!'" Jacob explained, adding:

"Our contractor was marshalled with his equipment, ready to come on site, pour the concrete foundations, install plumbing and the balance of required basic electronics on Monday."

"Pending final assessment of rain-caused delay, we have not adjusted any 'down the line' delivery dates for such items as computer terminals, National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) weather lines, and headend electronic and digital equipment holding instead to existing, firm dates, in the hopes that we and the contractor can 'build around each other'."

Jacob also confirmed his company's intent to invest more than $500,000 in the project this year to provide cable television service throughout the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and, at this time, into limited areas of Hancock County.

Operating out of their temporary headquarters in the "Oaklands Development" on Hwy. 603 and Longfellow Drive, Hancock Community Cable technical personnel are already engaged in prewiring some houses for cable television in an effort to "speed up" initial hook ups. "This activity is an effort to stay abreast of demand," Jacob said.

"And even though we decided to wait until we are ready to serve customers before engaging in any extensive promotion, we have received more than 250 inquiries for prewiring," he continued.

"Our technical personnel have been kept busier than we had anticipated for this time installing some initial wiring to these houses," Jacob said.

"The pre-wire simply lets Hancock Community Cable attach wires from about the point of cable drop to the house to the location of intended outlet or outlets," he continued.

"We do not charge for this service at this time, but when we activate the hook-up, the initial installation charge will be collected," Jacob explained.

Asked what signals were to be carried by the new system and how much it would cost the consumer or customer, the CATV manager said the Cable intends to feature Home Box Office and Channel 17, Atlanta, in addition to a 'host' of other specialty programs. "Dealing with the first portion of your question first, we will be carrying the latest in satellite relayed signals as well as those better known to this area received by the antenna system," Jacob continued.

He said, "Probably the best way to explain signals is to 'run down' the cable customer's television dial positions, some of which will be different from 'standard'.

The dial positions for a cable customer having complete service, and the resultant signal, will be: Cable Channel 2-to be announced (according to availability of new satellite programs); Cable Channel 3-Congressional Hearings (C-Span) when House is in session, Calliope (Children's Show), Madison Square Gardens (direct from New York), Community Billboard (these programs interleave each other on the channel); Cable Channel 4, Home Box Office (available to basic service customers only); Cable Channel 5, WWL-TV, New Orleans (CBS); Cable Channel 6, WDSU-TV, New Orleans (NBC); Cable Channel 7, WTCC Channel 17, Atlanta, 24-hour super station, (Independent); Cable Channel 8, WVUE-TV, New Orleans (ABC); Cable Channel 9, WGNO-TV, Channel 26, New Orleans, Independent, (Subject to FCC Approval); Cable Channel 10, WMAH-TV, Channel 19, Biloxi, Mississippi ETV; Cable Channel 11, WLOX-TV, Biloxi ABC; Cable Channel 12, WYES-TV, New Orleans, PBS; Cable Channel 13, NOAA and Local Weather station.

Jacob allowed the basic service includes all channels except Cable Channel 4, Home Box Office. "Home Box Office (HBO) is a premium, or pay channel available to basic service customers only, offering a mix of motion pictures, exclusive night club entertainment, sports events, and family programming," he explained.

The channel will show about 100 new films a year, not including foreign, classic, and family features, and will present nearly all of the major Hollywood releases worth seeing. "Generally, and there are exceptions, HBO will show a movie nine to 12 months after it is released in the theatre."

he said, "Every week HBO premieres major films, special night club acts, 'On Location' comedy events, or 'Standing Room Only' entertainment specials," the CATV manager said.

Price for entire package, basic service plus HBO was cited by Jacob as being $18.50 per month. The basic service, he said, is $8.50, optional HBO channel accounting for the other $3.

He said, "While a subscriber may sign up for the basic service alone at $8.50 per month, he must have this service before we can put in the HBO attachment.

"Additional outlets are $3.50 per month for the first extra set, and $1.50 per month for each additional outlet after that. Installation is normally $20 for basic service and $10 for HBO with a combination offer of $25 if both are installed at the same time," he went on.

During our initial drive we will be installing both services for $15, in a limited time offer, which will vary according to area," Jacob stated.

The intention of Hancock Cable, Jacob said, is to promote the service as they approach individual streets with the cable by the distribution of packages of information to each householder in that area.

"This will enable us to concentrate our main house connection effort on the area currently being served or about to be served by the cable," Jacob allowed.

He said, "Obviously it is our hope to connect as many people as possible to the service at its inception. To realize this aim we are trying to provide superior programming along with 24-hour service, and a much cleaner picture."

"We are building our headquarters on St. Joseph Street with a mind to future directions of expansion and provision of service," he noted.

"Our trunk cable will travel down St. Joseph, cross the Louisville and Nashville Railroad tracks at Coleman, and split east and west down Central Avenue," he explained.

To the east, the cable will re-cross at Washington, and wend its way through the City of Bay St. Louis, serving all areas each side of it, until it crosses US-90 at Dunbar and travels through Cedar Point, current plans show.

To the west, the line will continue down Central, turn to the South and terminate, at this time, in the vicinity of Sears Avenue. This trunk will ultimately serve Clermont Harbor.

"We will be constructing secondary or feeder line down the streets from Central to the Beach where bounded by the tracks, and both sides of the main cable elsewhere," he elaborated.

"Areas north of the tracks in Waveland will be served by a line running down Jeff Davis Avenue, and another trunk will travel the entire length of Herlihy Street to Waveland Avenue. This latter line will eventually wind up on US-90 and serve the west end."

"Other areas, similar to those off Old Spanish Trail, will be serviced by a line running from Central, through Spanish Acres," Jacob concluded.

CABLE MAN AT WORK—Lineman Sam Shaffer of Cable Man of Gulfport, contractors currently installing television cable in Waveland, for Hancock Community Cable, Inc., connects lines on a Central Avenue pole. Adverse weather this week has caused the company to push back its initial service date from June 1 to "sometime around July 4" according to Neville Jacob, general manager. ## Sample Nutritious Yogurt For Warm Weather Treat MISSISSIPPI STATE — As temperatures warm, try a special treat—yogurt, suggests Ann O. Rushing, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service marketing specialist.

Yogurt has the distinctive flavor derived from the culture in processing. Frozen yogurt retains the characteristic flavor with the cooling refreshment that comes from the freezer. Hard-frozen yogurt is now found in most frozen dessert displays at retail markets. Soft-frozen yogurt is available at specialty outlets which have equipment for dispensing the soft-frozen product. Refrigerated displays in the markets offer yogurt in the familiar form with flavor variations for personal preference of taste and use.

Yogurt comes in four basic styles: plain, flavored, sundae (fruit on the bottom) and swiss (fruit suspended throughout). There's also a western variation—sundae style with syrup on top, says Mrs. Rushing.

"Just why the smooth elegant versatility of yogurt was so long dismissed as a food only for faddists is a mystery," she adds.

The fermented, slightly acid, cultured milk is reported to have originated in the Middle East—perhaps as a means of preserving milk. Some who have researched the past of yogurt cite references that seem to confuse it with other fermented milk products.

Yogurt has historically had a reputation as a miracle food. Herodotus referred to yogurt; so did Marco Polo. The Assyrians thought yogurt was a "divine" food as well as an indispensable remedy for practically all illnesses. Indian legend has yogurt and honey as the food of the gods. Bulgarians ate yogurt to ensure longevity. Yogurt has a health image even today, she points out.

Yogurt is a custard-like product made by fermenting milk with a special culture. It may be made from either homogenized, pasteurized, whole milk or skim or partly skimmed milk. Plain yogurt has the nutritive value of the milk from which it is made.

Yogurt is also available sweetened and fruit-flavored. This adds to the calorie content and perhaps slightly changes other nutrients, depending on the composition of the fruit flavoring, according to the marketing expert.

Fishermen's meeting scheduled Saturday

By Leslie Williams
The annual Fishermen's Symposium will be Saturday at Admiral Benbow Inn on Hwy. 90 in Biloxi at 9 a.m.

"The symposium is designed to provide coastal fisherman an opportunity to gather together and learn more about each other, talk about common problems and solutions to those problems, and learn new ideas," the Sea Grant Advisory Service reports.

Symposium topics will include fuel efficiency, fishery management plans, outlook on Mississippi's shrimp crop, electronic deckhand, fishing vessel safety and the new conservation commission. Up to date research on this year's shrimp crop will be discussed by Tom McIlwain of Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

The symposium will also feature Dr. Richard Leard, Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission director.

Leard will speak on the egg crab issue, the oyster rebuilding program and how the upcoming creation of the Bureau of Marine Resources will affect coastal fishermen.

County forester named memorial fund chairman

Hancock County Forester Rand Riedrich is serving as local chairman of the John M. Vanderford Memorial Fund which has been established at Mississippi State University under the auspices of the university's development foundation.

Vanderford, a 1972 graduate of the Forestry School at Mississippi State, was killed last November 4, when a burning snag fell on him as he filmed a forest fire in Rankin County.

He had been employed by the Mississippi Forestry Commission since graduation and held the position of assistant information-education director at the time of his death.

He had previously served as a county forester in the Commission's Northwest and South Central Districts. Vanderford was a native of Corinth.

The Memorial Fund will provide financial assistance for selected young foresters enrolled at MSU who wish to further their interest in forestry communications and public relations work through extra-curricular training in this field.

A three-member panel composed of representatives of the MSU Department of Forestry, the Mississippi Forestry Association and the State Forestry Commission will meet annually to select recipients of the assistantships to be financed by the Fund.

Colvin noted that the Memorial Fund goal has been set at $10,000. He said that persons wishing to contribute to the fund should make donations payable to the Mississippi State University Development Foundation and should specify "John Vanderford Memorial Fund" on the face of the check.

Donations may either be directed to Riedrich, P.O. Box 109, Bay St. Louis, 39520, or mailed to the Mississippi State University Development Foundation, Box 423, Mississippi State, 39762.

Fund contributions will be acknowledged by the Development Foundation and are tax deductible.

High school juniors eligible for college

Academically talented high school juniors may attend the University of Southern Mississippi during the coming summer quarter and receive full credit if they meet special requirements.

Outstanding juniors can attend Southern under the new program to earn credit which will be held in abeyance until they enter college.

The curriculum will not involve special courses or a special summer term. Students will take regular courses in the regular summer quarter.

Regular fees will be applicable, but out-of-state tuition is waived.

A junior student may not take courses at USM available to him during his senior year in high school.

To be eligible, students must be in the upper third in ability or education development on nationally recognized test scores, have high school grades placing them in the upper one-third of their class, have exceptional ability as indicated by tests or grades for the curriculum they wish to pursue, and be recommended by an appropriate high school official.

Applications must be received by May 1, 1979.

Academic programs proposed this in 'Springboard' program include biology, chemistry, German or Spanish, oral and written language, environmental science, and certain courses in mathematics, computer science, psychology, philosophy, sociology, journalism, public address, communication and creative writing.

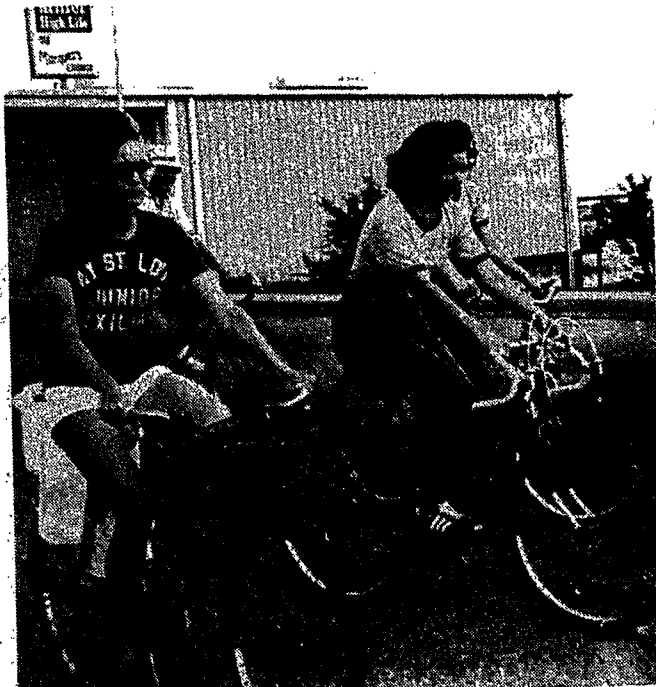

Other regular courses may be substituted in special cases.

Qualified juniors, therefore, may take from 1 to 4 courses, depending on the curriculum they select.

Approximately $338 in tuition is required for full time students living on campus in an air conditioned dormitory with a full meal plan.

Out-of-state fees are waived and part time student costs are approximately $27 per semester hour.

For additional information contact Miss Susan Fasano, Springboard coordinator, Office of High School and Junior College Relations, Southern Station, Box 5011, Hattiesburg, 39401, or telephone 266-7111.

Heintz, Jordan draft winning essays in SSC birthday contest

As part of the 125th Anniversary celebration of St. Stanislaus, an essay contest was sponsored by the student council with awards being given for the best essay submitted by a junior high student and the best essay submitted by a senior high student.

Brother Eldon Crifasi, principal of St. Stanislaus, announced that senior Grady Heintz won the senior high division and eighth grader Daniel Jordan won the junior high division.

Following is a text of the winning essays:

GRADY HEINTZ

ST. STANISLAUS - 125 YEARS AND STILL GROWING

By GRADY HEINTZ

Throughout the years, the determination, perseverance, and stability of the BROTHERS OF THE SACRED HEART have established and maintained one of the most versatile and qualitative institutes of secondary learning on the Gulf Coast.

Through their untiring efforts, the Brothers have surpassed the usual standards of most secondary schools to give to the student body of St. Stanislaus a strong educational background and a well-developed moral fiber which will carry them through the difficult years ahead.

This extra incentive to strive for only the best is what sets St. Stanislaus apart from the crowd.

This extraordinary incentive is best exemplified in the history of St. Stanislaus. Starting with little more than a wish and a prayer, the Brothers of the Sacred Heart built St. Stanislaus into the varied, modern institute it is today.

The Brothers, through their own personal efforts and the cooperation of their past and present students, have achieved a most rewarding and self-satisfying goal.

They have obtained the means of giving to the students of St. Stanislaus a proper, hard-earned education.

With this goal already achieved, the Brothers are now looking into the future on behalf of students yet to come.

With the building of modern sports facilities, the continued maintenance and improvement of the school and its educational standards, and the continued effort to better understand the ways of modern society, the Brothers are paving a way to a brighter future for all those concerned with the multi-faceted institution of St. Stanislaus College.

DANIEL JORDAN

A HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AND STILL GROWING

By DANIEL JORDAN

Through all ages, as man has progressed, there have been afflictions, tribulation and difficulty.

Each of these brings with it change and hopefully growth.

Man, with his ingenuity, has turned these difficulties to his benefit and this is true of St. Stanislaus School.

Founded in 1854, by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, a school was born with the ideal of producing great men for a great nation. The hills and the mountains of mountains of trials began.

This institution was to survive wars, diseases, depressions, disasters and nature's wrath.

At times its doors would have to close but never tightly or for long. As the people, who made the heart of the institution, passed through history, they left their mark locally and nationally.

The name, St. Stanislaus of Bay St. Louis, became synonymous with extraordinary, notable pedagogy and educated men.

As with the building of any institution, there must have been times when "giving up" would have been easier than going forward. But this does not fit the spirit with which our land was built.

So today we have an establishment that rises high in position on the land and in the minds of men.

It would be easy to continue glorifying in the past but we are here today have shared in such a brief part of its history that it makes us come up short.

We have to realize that we are a part of something great but it is in a different way.

Today's student is making today's history. We are changing. Will we continue to maintain these traditions and yet change them to meet today's needs? Are we the outstanding citizens of tomorrow?

I say yes, because we come like empty vessels and are being filled with pride, love, knowledge and dedication.

That is what St. Stanislaus has done for one hundred and twenty-five years and this is what will make it continue to grow.

NSTL's Rockwell sponsors space-age career program

The Space System's Group of Rockwell International at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County is sponsoring a unique career day for the youth of neighboring communities at St. Augustine Seminary Gym, Bay St. Louis, Saturday, May 5, at 1 p.m.

Personnel representing some 60 professions and vocations will answer questions for sixth grade through college level students.

Career Day, under sponsorship of Rockwell's Starlight Program will offer an opportunity for young individuals to talk on a one-to-one basis with a professional about his career aspirations.

Hopefully, this personal contact will provide the student with an opportunity to discuss topics such as specific goals and education of the profession, types of courses, need for good study habits, necessity for staying in school and receiving a diploma, a Rockwell spokesman said.

Professional representatives will include astronauts, engineers, attorneys, pharmacists, law enforcement personnel and professional athletes.

Rockwell's Starlight Program offers speakers, plant or field trips, career seminars, exhibits and school assistance.

The Starlight Program offers these service to the local community, church, civic groups, colleges, and especially students in surrounding junior and senior high schools.

Gerry Wilson, Rockwell's resident manager and Mississippi main propulsion test operation program director, said,

"This program is designed to involve and inform the community of careers for the future and the benefits of aerospace industry."

"Space exploration is the thing of the future. It offers an opportunity to be a part of moving into the space age. Establishing space age role models is essential, not only for the future, but for the aerospace industry, and for technological advancement of our society," he continued.

"The educational program and establishment of role models are beginnings for the future. Unless you have an education or skill, you can't make it in today's society," Wilson feels.

recreation, and timber production.

The resolution, signed by Ladner, requested that the Devil's Swamp tract be opened under a permit-user fee system in the near future.

According to Moss, the Devil's Swamp area involves some 30,000 acres of company land. He noted that other additional lands managed by the company are readily available to Hancock County residents and hunters in adjoining areas.

"Our purpose is to improve the hunting in the Devil's Swamp area," Moss said. He added, "We believe, along with local sportsmen, that to protect and improve the wildlife populations in the area the land must be under managed hunting conditions and programs. This will allow us to concentrate on some of the problems that presently face the area's wildlife populations."

At the close of the resolution, the Bay-Waveland Rod and Gun Club requested every sportsman in the county to support International Paper Company and the club in "a mutual program to enhance and improve conditions for wildlife in Hancock County."

WATERFOWL CONTEST

The Mississippi Game and Fish Commission has extended the deadline for the annual state waterfowl stamp competition until 5 p.m. Monday, April 30, 1979. The agency took the action last week so that "amateur and professional hunters who want to enter and be penalized by inconvenience caused by flood waters around the state."

SCHOOLING FISH

The most commonly known aspect of social behavior in fish is their tendency to "school," to group together in large numbers.

Sport fishermen in the Spring look for schools of popular gamefish such as white bass, crappie and black bass, and take advantage of the abundance of fish in one place.

Not all fish school. Certain species such as largemouth bass, white bass and many saltwater fish travel in schools when young, but break up into smaller units and finally become solitary fish as they grow older and larger.

Interestingly, those fish which school for their entire lives are usually forage fish such as minnows and herring.

Safety in numbers may be their motto, suggests the staff at Mercury outdoors' fishing department, but it's also possible that schools of small fish are nature's way of providing a quick meal for hungry predator fish such as bass, pike and muskie.

Bay disco owner is musical celebrity making comeback

By GERRI MILLS

Take one very young rock musician who also happens to be a starter on his high school basketball team, schedule a rock gig and opening night scrimmage on the same night - the boy chooses the musical gig and...a star is born.

It's not always like that, but in the case of Jerry Fisher of Bay St. Louis that's exactly what happened.

This is a good week for "Fish," the exuberant owner of Dock of the Bay on Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis. He's just completed an album along with the George Mills-Johnny Hozey Band.

But this is not his first musical coup. After playing music through high school in his hometown of Oklahoma City, Okla., he toured the United States for several years before he started recording "singles" in New York.

A band by the name of Blood, Sweat and Tears listened to the 45's, liked what they heard, and invited Fish to rehearse with them for three or four days.

Fish did a few sessions with them and the rest is musical history. Jerry Fisher toured the world several times as vocalist for Blood, Sweat and Tears.

While in Brussels, Belgium he met a pretty stewardess from Bay St. Louis by the name of Melva Luke.

They were married and that's how Bay St. Louis inherited this genial musician.

His years with Blood, Sweat and Tears hold many high memories for Jerry Fisher.

One of the highlights was a tour of Israel where the band met Moshe Dayan.

They were flown to the Sinai by the Red Sea where they attended a concert by Israeli artists.

The band also did the first television New Year's Eve Rock n' Roll Show along with host Dick Clark.

Fish smiles, "I was thrilled to death to meet Dick Clark. After watching him for so many years it was fantastic to see how he hypnotizes those kids. He's great with an audience."

Then there are the disadvantages of being a rock star. Blood, Sweat and Tears was in Spain when a tour had to be cancelled because of difficulties with management.

Several members of the band, Fish included, were "stuck" for three days in Spain before they were allowed to leave.

Rather thoughtfully Fish explains, "It was a little unnerving and a REAL bummer!"

After leaving Blood, Sweat and Tears, Fish decided to record at Studio in the Country in Bogalusa. It was decided that he and Melva would move to Melva's home town of Bay St. Louis.

They bought the Dock of the Bay and began bringing in quality bands for entertainment. The Dock became a very busy place with Jerry and Melva behind the bar. They were happy, but as Jerry puts it, "I missed music. I'd hear the bands and wish I was playing again."

He tried several times to form bands but nothing would click.

Along came the George Mills-Johnny Hozey Band and "it happened."

"I like working with them. Each person takes a large share of the responsibility," Fisher explains.

"They all play several different instruments so this gives us a lot of flexibility," he adds.

"They also play gigs without me. Playing six or seven nights a week was starting to get to me. Now I have some freedom but I also have the opportunity of working with a group of excellent musicians."

When asked about his future plans, Fisher explained that he now has to take the finished album to three record companies.

Once the album is released the band will go on tour to promote it.

But Fisher is not leaving Bay St. Louis.

"This is my home now and I love it," he explained.

The band will still be at the Dock periodically and he's also talking of his plans to add a patio on the back of the club.

One may imagine that Jerry Fisher is a very intense, energetic and happy person.

When asked what his goals are, he sat back, stretched his legs and became pensive for a moment.

Then with a slow smile he began, "I hope people will realize I'm trying to be sincere, that I am honest and that I might be expressing something musically that is giving them pleasure."

Jerry Fisher at work on new hit album

Bogalusa recording studio is favorite rock star haunt

By GERRI MILLS

Snug in the woods just outside of Bogalusa is an architectural delight built of wood and stone.

This is "Studio in the Country," which is beginning to become a very busy spot.

Stevie Wonder has produced an album here. The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band is here this week. Louisiana's LeRoux won't go anywhere else.

Last week Jerry Fisher and the George Mills-Johnny Hozey Band completed their first album together.

Fisher invited the Echo to "sit-in" on a recording session to see exactly how much work goes into the making of an album.

The studio walls are angled to get the most out of the sound. One part of the studio has a stone floor and walls. This enables a sharp, clear sound.

The other portion of the studio has thick carpet, and cork and wood walls which causes a more mellow sound.

The true star of a recording studio is the sound engineer.

When Jerry Fisher and the Mills-Hozey band recorded, they did it on 24 separate tracks.

This means that there are 24 different tapes comprising one song.

Once the recording is done it is the engineer's job to "mix" these tapes into one.

David Farrell, the sound engineer at "Studio" explains it this way:

"It's my job to take each track and blend them together in order to get maximum quality - it's sort of like putting a picture together."

The session for that day started at noon. Jerry Fisher was doing some vocals for one of the songs. He finished singing about 9:30 p.m.

Now it was time to mix the song. During this tedious process where the engineer must listen to the song over and over, track by track, it was discovered that the tambourine track has some interference on it.

Farrell then went into the studio to re-do the tambourine track himself.

An accomplished drummer, he wasn't satisfied with the sound until after eight takes.

The mixing process for one song had taken almost 8 hours and it was 5 a.m. before they called it a day.

The rest of the album was mixed the following day in a session that started at 2 p.m. and ended at 10 a.m. the following morning.

The atmosphere of the studio is pleasant. About 200 yards from the main building is a small pond complete with rowboats.

This gives performers a chance to relax and get a different perspective when they re-enter a recording session.

On the day the Fisher-Mills-Hozey album was completed, several members of the band were present to hear the final cuts of what they had produced.

It was a satisfying day for them as they listened. Heads nodded and feet tapped.

Afterwards they sat back and compared opinions. All seemed to be pleased with what they had heard.

The album is completed and very shortly Fisher will be in California and New York to present it to three interested record companies.

The studio empties out, the engineers shut down the equipment and the place is silent.

But in a few hours another group will visit this studio nestled in the pines so they can put their hopes and hard work on tape.

VA news

Q - I have a five-year level premium term insurance plan. I would like to convert to one of the permanent plans. Will I have to take a physical to meet certain health requirements?

A - No. The five-year level premium term insurance plan can be converted without meeting health requirements at any time the policy is in force. However, if the veteran is totally disabled, it cannot be converted to an endowment type policy.

Q - I now receive 100 percent service connected disability compensation. My wife and I plan to divorce soon. We have been married for 28 years. Will she be entitled to a portion of my compensation when we are divorced?

A - No. Her entitlement to all benefits ceases when you are divorced.

Q - I understand that recent legislation granted payment of a monetary allowance toward the purchase of a non-government grave marker. What are the details?

A - Public Law 95-476 allows VA to pay up to $50 in cases of veterans whose burial occurred on or after Oct. 15, 1978. For additional information on eligibility, you should contact your nearest VA office.

Q - My NSLI dividends are applied to my insurance premiums. I would like to change this and have the checks mailed to me. Is there a form I could use?

A - Yes. Form 29-432 may be used for changing your NSLI dividend option.

Q - If I waive my full military retired pay to receive Veterans Administration disability compensation, can the VA compensation be garnished?

A - If a retired veteran waives his military retired pay to accept VA compensation, that compensation may be garnished for court-ordered alimony or child support. Otherwise, the VA compensation may not be generally garnished.

Q - What period is considered "World War II" wartime service for pension benefits?

A - The period from Dec. 7, 1941, through Dec. 31, 1946, is considered wartime service by the VA for pension benefits.

Q - If I request VA educational and vocational counseling, will I be in group or private sessions?

A - Group methods may be utilized to accomplish certain phases of the counseling. Generally, group sessions are supplemented by individual counseling.

Q - My husband, who still has his World War II GI insurance in force, has his mother designated as his beneficiary. We have been married for the past 25 years. Is there any way I can get this changed?

A - No. Only the insured veteran may change his beneficiary.

Q - Is an election for non-service connected benefits under the "improved pension" program binding?

A - If an election is made which does not result in a greater benefit to the beneficiary, the Veterans Administration will not accept the election. The beneficiary will continue to receive benefits under the pension program providing the benefit. However, once a valid and accepted election is made, there is no return to the original program after the first check under the new program is cashed.

FORTY PERCENT VETS

More than 40 out of every 100 adult American males are armed forces veterans.

VA TOLL FREE

Over 24 million telephone callers will get information and help from the Veterans Administration this year. Toll-free phone service to VA regional offices is available in all 50 states.

VIETNAM VETERANS

Vietnam Veterans Week, from May 28 to June 3, will be a one-time opportunity for the people of the United States to put aside their convictions about the war itself and pay tribute to the people who were called upon to fight it, according to Max Cleland, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

VA BUDGET

For veterans benefits and programs, the Veterans Administration will spend 3.8 percent of the total federal government budget in fiscal year 1980.

VOCATIONAL REHAB

Some 16,900 disabled veterans are training - 13,000 of them in college - under the Veterans Administration vocational rehabilitation program. Since World War II, more than 825,000 ex-service personnel have trained under this or similar VA readjustment programs.

VA CHECKS

More than 80 million checks for veterans' pension, compensation and education allowances are processed by the Veterans Administration annually.

LONG BEACH LONG REDS

Shortly after the turn of this century one of Mississippi's coastal counties was the red capital of the South - shipping as many as 150 railroad carloads in one season out of the community of Long Beach to northern markets in leading cities of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Michigan.

The story of Mississippi's heyday in the radish producing industry is told by Mary Ellen Alexander in the latest issue of DOWN SOUTH magazine, recalling an era in vegetable production that is almost unbelievable today.

The writer quotes an article in the June 21, 1921, issue of the DAILY HERALD at Gulfport which carried the headline: "LONG BEACH CLOSING BIGGEST VEGETABLE SHIPPING SEASON IN ITS HISTORY."

The article went on to state that 330 cars were shipped that year from the area, 100 carloads more than the previous season. And along with the trainloads of long red radishes went 60 carloads of carrots that season with records of 1,000 to 1,200 hampers to the acre reported.

All of this, mind you, before the inimitable Bugs Bunny popularized the yellow root from glistening movie theatre screens across the land.

The coastal truckers also shipped cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce, turnips and beans which were then successfully grown in the sandy soil adjacent to the Mississippi Sound.

Ms. Alexander's research reveals that the truck farming industry in Long Beach had its beginning in the late 1880's after the L & N Railroad connecting New Orleans and Mobile was in operation.

The Long Beach Long Reds, the leading radish variety, met with such successful demand on the markets primarily because radishes were served as an accompaniment to beer in those northern cities much as pretzels are served today.

This strange compatibility would appear to have been imported from the European continent where even today at the famed Oktoberfest in Munich each autumn, the world's greatest single beerspout, beer steins are accompanied by generous amounts of ornately peeled radishes and turnips.

But at this coastal ag center of earlier times radishes and other vegetable crops had no corner on the produce market.

As early as 1880 two transplanted Tennesseans, James and Woods Thomas opened a nursery of fruit and nut trees at Long Beach. So successful was this venture, Ms. Alexander recalls, that salesmen were employed to travel the area between Mobile and New Orleans selling satsuma, grapefruit, pear and pecan trees.

In fact, the truck industry was to follow the nursery business as James Thomas enticed another Tennessean, Jim Quarles, to come from Lebanon, Tennessee, to Long Beach and start growing snap beans for shipment to the northern markets. Advertisements appeared in farm publications and soon others moved into the arena.

Soon there were two strong vegetable growers' associations operating with a representative in northern cities. And on January 6, 1923, J.C. Hodge of Long Beach was among 22 growers in the state that reorganized a Mississippi Truck Growers Incorporated under the auspices of the newly created Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

Unimproved land then sold for $5 per acre while cleared land went for $30, in this land billed as the great paper-shell pecan belt. Families arrived from Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana and north Mississippi. In 1906 during a big tide of immigration from Europe to America, a number of Italians reached Long Beach and by 1908 there were some 70 growers in the community with over 300 acres in truck farming.

Through June 30, 1978, and which created an emergency need for the household.

One such ad in NORTH AND SOUTH published in April, 1908, asked the question, "You Have Heard of Long Beach, Mississippi, Haven't You?" and went on to state that everything would grow there in the fruit and vegetable line - and a fortune awaited the haymaker.

Unimproved land then sold for $5 per acre while cleared land went for $30, in this land billed as the great paper-shell pecan belt. Families arrived from Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana and north Mississippi. In 1906 during a big tide of immigration from Europe to America, a number of Italians reached Long Beach and by 1908 there were some 70 growers in the community with over 300 acres in truck farming.

Soon there were two strong vegetable growers' associations operating with a representative in northern cities. And on January 6, 1923, J.C. Hodge of Long Beach was among 22 growers in the state that reorganized a Mississippi Truck Growers Incorporated under the auspices of the newly created Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

Joachim named to State Real Estate Commission

Governor Cliff Finch has reappointed J.B. McGehee of Brandon, and Harry J. Joachim of Biloxi to the Mississippi Real Estate Commission for a period of four years.

Realtor McGehee will represent the Third Congressional District and Realtor Joachim will represent the Fifth Congressional District.

Joachim is a native Biloxian, and has served as president of numerous organizations, including the Mississippi Association of Realtors.

He was named Realtor of the Year in 1967, 1968, 1971, and 1976 by the Biloxi-Ocean Springs Board of Realtors; the only Realtor to be so named in the history of the board.

He was also named State Realtor of the Year by the Mississippi Association of Realtors in 1971.

Joachim is a member of the Federal, Eminent, Domain Commission of the U.S. District Court of South Mississippi, and has been an instructor in real estate at Hinds Junior College, the University of Mississippi, the University of Southern Mississippi, and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College.

He has also instructed for the Graduate Realtor's Institute Course, and for the Weaver School of Real Estate since 1964.

He is also a member of the American Right-of-Way Association, American Society of Appraisers, National Institute of Real Estate Brokers, National Institute of Farm and Land Brokers, National Real Estate Filers Association, and the Association of Federal Appraisers.

Joachim has written a number of articles on real estate and is author of a book dealing with property values in the Bahamas.

He is a former director of the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the American Legion, Elks Veterans of Foreign Wars, and is past commodore of the Biloxi Yacht Club.

Serving on the commission with McGehee and Joachim are Lester R. Howell, chairman; Herman Partlow of the First Congressional District; and Johnny Jabour of the Fourth Congressional District.

National judges selected BWGC flower show winners

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club temporarily transformed the Bay St. Louis City-County

Library into a floral delight Friday and Saturday as it conducted its annual Spring Flower Show.

The standard flower show was presented under the rules and regulations of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., and was open to all amateur flower arrangers and gardeners.

Major national council awards were presented to winning exhibitors, selected by nationally accredited judges and assisted by student judges.

Design division judges were: Mrs. L.V. Pringle Jr., Biloxi; Mrs. Nathan Berry, Biloxi; Mrs. Dan Russell, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Paul Miller, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Arnold Keitzer, student judge, Gulfport; and Mrs. Jam Braymeyer, student judge, Bay St. Louis.

Horticulture judges were: Mrs. Leo Pratt, Gulfport; Mrs. Charles C. Munroe, Ocean Springs; Mrs. B.J. White, student judge, Columbia; and Mrs. John Holmes, student judge, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Augustus Elmer was the sweepstakes winner, taking the most blue ribbons in the horticulture division. Mrs. Charles Shambley received the award of horticulture excellence for the finest exhibit in that division.

The award of distinction in the design division went to Mrs. John Holmes.

The design division requires arrangements made completely of dried plant material.

Mrs. Holmes won another blue ribbon in that division, as did Mrs. Paul Miller.

The creativity award for a design using fresh, dried, or combination of the two went to Mrs. John Newkirk.

Other blue ribbons in that division were awarded to Mrs. Numa Snider and Mrs. John Schott.

Tricolor award for use of fresh material went to Mrs. Paul Miller.

Other blue ribbon winners in tricolor division were Mrs. Lelyn W. Nybo and Mrs. Dan Russell.

A local award, the serendipity award, was won by Mrs. Lelyn Nybo for a design of all fresh plant material limited to eight inches in all dimensions.

In the invitational class, open to students judges only, blue ribbons went to Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. W.W. Dreher for her design entitled 'Golden Birthday Party.'

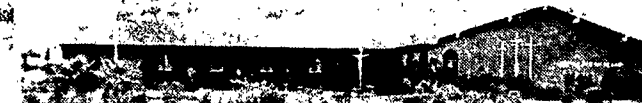

A door prize of a pigmy date palm, donated by Mummie's Garden Center in Waveland, went to Mrs. Lelyn W. Nybo; fuchsia donated by Loraine's Flower Shop of Bay St. Louis and The Flower Shop; also in Bay St. Louis, were awarded to Mrs. Blanche Divine of Diamondhead and Mrs. B.J. White of Columbia. And garden tools, donated by Waveland Lumber and Pro Hardware, went to Mr. Randle Hatton.

Reach out. Reach out and touch someone.

Obviously, talking with a busy family or friends isn't for the birds. But with bargain-time rates being what they are, can you blame a bird for trying? Why you can dial the One-Plus way clear across the country after 5 p.m. talk for ten minutes, and it won't cost you more than $2.57 (plus tax). Could cost you even less, if you call after 11 p.m. or on weekends. So reach out and touch someone who's waiting for you to call. Call up and just say "hi" or "Gawk!"

ECHO HOME FOR 22 YEARS—The two story building at 112 S. Second Street served as the home for the Sea Coast Echo from December 1956 until January 1979. The first occupant of the building was the Woodman of the World and many old timers remember their parents attending dances on Saturday nights in the building. The building is currently being restored. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

WINDOWS TAKEN OUT—The home of the Sea Coast Echo during renovation was wide open when plate glass was removed. Everything was removed except 12 inch thick brick walls by DECO Construction Company. The building was sold to the Echo by Dr. Michael Smith with Dixie Realty as the Real Estate Broker. (Staff photo)

BUILDING INSULATED THROUGHOUT—The modern news and printing facilities of the Sea Coast Echo, keeping in mind the energy crisis, used insulation wherever possible throughout building. The new location of the Echo now in its 85th year is 124 Court Street. You are invited to our open house today from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Staff photo)

Hass, Farve elected to health agency

The Mississippi Health Systems Agency, Inc. (MHSA) renewed the membership of its Southern Subarea Advisory Council through a public election held recently at Gulf Coast Junior College in Perkinston.

Re-elected to represent the consumers in Hancock County on the council are Harry Farve, Bay St. Louis councilman, and Norton Haas, local businessman.

MHSA is a non-profit agency funded by the federal government to conduct health planning activities, reveal health projects, and to provide technical assistance to local groups interested in improving their health.

MHSA operates through a board of directors appointed in part by the ten subarea advisory councils (SACs) elected throughout the state.

Under the directives of Public Law 93-641, each SAC is required to have a balanced representation of sex, age, racial and economic classifications that reflects the population of the area.

Furthermore, representatives are selected by the classifications of health care "providers" and "consumers," with a majority of consumers, and the others qualified in various specified health care categories—that is, a specified number of physicians, dentists, nurses, optometrists, hospital and nursing home administrators, other health related professions, etc.

SAC members serve staggered three year terms so that each year at least one-third of the council membership would be open to election (or re-election in some cases).

Additionally, there are some members whose positions have been vacated and must be replaced through the annual elections.

The Southern SAC Elections were attended by 243 residents of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River, Stone, George, Marion, Lamar, Forrest, Perry, Greene, Jeff Davis, Covington, Jones and Wayne counties, the fifteen counties served by this SAC.

Red Cross disaster relief quota is $288

The Hancock County Chapter of the American National Red Cross has been assigned a $288 goal in fund raising for flood and tornado victims, according to Executive Secretary Thelma Kergoslen.

Mrs. Kergoslen reported she received the following information from the Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D.C.:

"Due to recent flooding and tornadoes in the southeast, the National Red Cross has called for a campaign to supplement rapidly depleted disaster reserves," the message states.

"The Alabama division has been assigned a $183 million goal. Each division chapter has been assigned a goal based on 15 percent of the 1980 National Fair Share," the message continues.

"Hancock County's goal is $288. If you are among the fortunate ones who are not now experiencing the loss of your home, you will want to work for the success of this campaign," the headquarters note added.

Mrs. Kergoslen said checks may be sent to the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 149, Bay St. Louis, Miss., 39520.

"Stop now and write a check as your contribution to the Hancock County Chapter's quota," Mrs. Kergoslen said.

County schools continue child find operation

The Hancock County School District is participating in an ongoing statewide effort to identify, locate, and evaluate children under the age of 21 who are physically, mentally, communicatively and/or emotionally handicapped.

Furthermore, this information will be used to help determine present and future program needs as progress is made toward the goal of providing a free appropriate public education to all handicapped children, according to Superintendent Terry Randolph.

Information which could identify an individual child will be maintained by this school district and will be provided to other agencies only in accord with the Family Rights and Privacy Act.

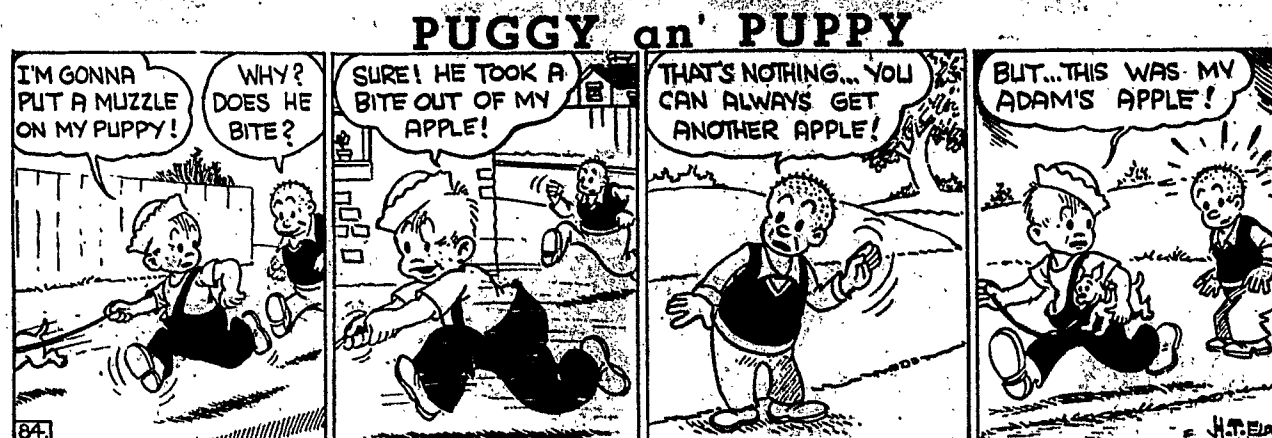

"As a parent, you are guaranteed the right to inspect any such information about your child and to challenge its accuracy. Access to this information is

Meet the Gulf Coast Brownbuilders... members of Brown & Root's worldwide team

Brown & Root, one of the world's largest engineering and construction companies, owes much of its success over the past 60 years to the skills and loyalty of its Brownbuilders.

Along the Gulf Coast, Brownbuilders are designing and constructing offshore oil and gas platforms and pipelines, chemical and petrochemical plants, power plants, bridges, highways, and oil field sites.

Whatever we do, wherever we do it, one thing remains the same. We recruit, hire, train, and advance as many local people as possible. Gulf Coast Brownbuilders like the ones you see here - working on Brown & Root projects throughout the Gulf Coast states.

It's been our policy for years to hire locally first, so wherever Brown & Root works there are job opportunities for people qualified, willing, and able to work. That way, local communities, counties, and states get maximum benefit from projects on which we work - in jobs, payrolls, purchases, savings, and taxes.

Gulf Coast Brownbuilders... people like you at work near here.
